

Permission to Use, Alter, Copy or Distribute The Perfect Trip™ Materials

Attached to this email are electronic copies of all three The Perfect Trip Planning Manuals and The Perfect Trip Planning Worksheet. The manuals have been provided in two formats with two associated PDF files.

You indicate your agreement to the terms of this agreement upon opening or otherwise using any of the original files (not the PDFs) attached to this agreement.

The two formats and related PDF files of each manual represent a difference between electronic distribution and physical distribution. Specifically, you are required to use the WEBSOURCE format when distributing electronically. The PDFs have been provided for ease of distribution and printing across a wide range of platforms.

The intent of this agreement is to provide wide and low cost access of this material to people and organizations without jeopardizing the copyright and without allowing the work to be used in such a way that people must pay for the material.

Here are the rules:

1. This work has been a growing work over the years and I love additions. However, if you or anyone in your organization modifies the content of the documents other than to customize it by adding or substituting your organization's name or department names, we require a copy of the completed document so that your great additions can be considered for future inclusion. Please submit those electronically with a list of affected pages.
2. You may not distribute the original WORD files that are being forwarded to you under this agreement or any of your modified files. These files have been provided to you for modification. Other organizations need to request permission in the same manner as you did.
3. You may distribute your modified copy of the document to your organization and those associated with your organization. You may distribute your modified copy to other organizations that you assist given that the cover specifically indicates that this copy has been customized to your organization. You may also distribute electronically in an uneditable PDF format.
4. As always, you may use, copy or distribute the original (which is now entirely generic) without any limitations other than those imposed for electronic distribution above or those restrictions regarding the WORD files.

5. As always, you may use, copy or distribute your modified copies without any limitations other than those imposed for electronic distribution above or those restrictions regarding the WORD files.
6. You may not charge anyone or any organization for any use, copying or distribution of this material in any form – to include suggested donation pricing. If people wish to donate to offset direct cost of copying or distribution, you may receive those fees to the extent that those donations do not exceed your direct, actual cost of copying or distribution.
7. All previous permissions for Use, Alteration, Copying or Distribution related to any and all files previously distributed to you or in your possession are hereby revoked so that the most current versions can be used. You retain the right to copy and distribute your files previously modified and created from a previous original.
8. This agreement does not supercede or replace any of the existing rights reserved by Doug Burrier and can be revoked at anytime. Upon revocation all original files must be returned or destroyed and no further alterations may be made to the material.
